Increase Fund For Hamilton Scholarships

Aid To Be Given To All-Around-Men

By Greg Drummond

A two-fold change in the scholarship policy of the College, which will alter the requirements for scholarship assistance and increase the amount of funds available to the student body, was announced in Wednesday assembly by President Robert W. McEwen.

The move, which is the first important policy change since the alteration of the foreign language requirement last Spring, was hailed by the student body as a possible stimulus to Hill athletic prospects.

Although one-half of the Scholarship funds will still be awarded only to those students who stand in the upper one-half of their class, the remainder will, under the new program, go to students who, in the opinion of the scholarship committee headed by Sidney B. Bennett, are "responsible campus citizens."

Requirements Under New Plan

The requirements for the second class of scholarships will be financial need; at least a minimal academic achievement, meaning in the case of freshmen, promise to maintain a "C" average with no failures, and, for upperclassmen, maintenance of a "C" average with no failures during the previous semester, and no deficiencies in Chapel, Physical Education, or general classroom attendance; and promise of being good "Hamilton men."

President McEwen made clear in his announcement that good campus citizenship was not "confined exclusively to playing halfback on the football team," implying that participation in debating, student publications, student government, dramatics, etc. could also be counted toward responsible citizenship.

Stating that "it has always been the aim of the College to produce all-around men as well as scholars," the President pointed out that the change brings the scholarship policy in line with the admissions policy.

Reasons For Increase Given

Two factors influenced the decision to increase the amount of scholarship funds, he stated. "In the first place, the number of veterans in College has dropped considerably, and will continue to do so; and second, the GI Bill of Rights will run out next year for the great majority of veterans who are in school.

"Thus, it is necessary for the College to augment the funds in order to keep the standards of the College at their present high level," he said in an interview Wednesday afternoon.

Although declining to announce the exact amount of money which will be dispersed in scholarships next year, President McEwen did say that there would be a modest but substantial increase over the total which was awarded this year.

Prominent Author Will Speak On Negro Poetry Wednesday

By Jack Banks

Langston Hughes, the outstanding Negro poet in America today, will speak on "Poems of Negro Life" in the fifth of the College lecture series in the chapel this Wednesday evening, March 15.

Mr. Hughes is not only a successful poet, but he is also renowned for his plays, opera librettoes, novels, radio scripts, etc. His most recent work was the two-act libretto, The Barrier, produced by the Columbia Theatre Associates in the beginning of this year; and Mr. Hughes has received only the highest of praise from the critics for his story.

Wrote Broadway Play

Mr. Hughes' poem Cross created such a sensation in 1934 that he turned it into a play, Mulatto, which ran for over a year on Broadway in 1935-36. The Barrier is also an adaptation of this poem.

A veteran of seven cross-country lecture tours, Mr. Hughes has also served as visiting professor at Atlanta University (1947) and Poet in Residence at the Laboratory School, University of Chicago (1949). He received his A.M. from Lincoln University (Pa.) in 1929, and also received an honorary L.L.D. from his alma mater in 1943.

His poetry has won for him, among other awards, the Guggenheim Fellowship, the Rosenwald Fellowship, and the American Academy of Arts and Letters Grant. He is currently a columnist for the Chicago Defender, and contributing editor to many magazines.

Wrote Lyrics For Street Scene

In 1947 Mr. Hughes wrote the lyrics for the Elmer Rice-Kurt Weill dramatic musical, Street Scene. In all, he has written six full-length plays, two one-act plays, and three opera librettoes.

His books and anthologies, which include The Big Sea (an autobiography) and The Poetry of the Negro, have been translated into four languages. His radio scripts have been heard over many of the leading networks, and he has also appeared on "The Town Hall of the Air," "The March of Time," and many other radio programs.

Charles Noble Will Conduct Sunday Chapel

Charles C. Noble, Dean of Hendricks Memorial Chapel at Syracuse University, will be the visiting preacher at next Sunday evening's Chapel Service. The title of Dean Noble's sermon will be: "Is Our God Big Enough?"

Born in Washington, D. C., Dean Noble soon moved north to Massachusetts, where he went to public school at Newton. Later, he attended Williams College and Union Theological Seminary. He has been awarded two honorary degrees, one from Springfield College, the other from Williams.

Besides supervising and coordinating all religious activities on the Syracuse campus, Dean Noble is closely associated with the Y. M. C. A.: he is a director of the Syracuse and New York State Y. M. C. A., and holds membership both in the National Council and International Committee of the organization.

He is Chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Camping, a trustee of the Silver Bay Association, and a chairman of the State Boy's Work Committee.

Hamilton On The Air

Hamilton will present another in the series of Hamilton on the Air broadcasts over Utica station WIBX, Wednesday afternoon at 5:15 on American folk music.

Frank Jewell and Jack Riffle will participate in the program which will consist of both singing and discussion of folk songs.

Alumni Conference Held Last Night; Topic Investments

Last Thursday evening at the DU House, "Investments" was the topic of the alumni vocational conference. Two of the three speakers were Hamilton alumni: Charles H. Seaver, '21, and Arnold Smith, '22. The third, Charles Brundage, is the head of the counseling firm that presently advises the college.

Mr. Seaver, a Psi U, has been in the investment business since he graduated from Hamilton 29 years ago; he now has his own brokerage firm.

Mr. Smith, a former DU, is Vice President of the National Investors Corporation.

During the official part of the meeting, the three gentlemen described their respective fields: Mr. Brundage on investment counseling; Mr. Seaver on stock brokerage; and Mr. Smith on investment banking and investment principles. Later, the audience took part in the discussion.

At 10:00 Friday morning, Messrs. Brundage, Seaver, and Smith interviewed those students interested in investments and relative subjects in the Baker Memorial Room.

Debate Club Teams Travel This Weekend

Two Hamilton teams will debate against West Point, Columbia, Rutgers, Princeton, Lafayette, Fordham, and N.Y.U. this week, Thursday through Sunday, it was announced today by Arnold Lerman, Debate Club President.

Two other Hamilton debaters, Ed Rosenthal and Dick Hogan,

Anne Parker Picked New Carnival Queen

By Tim Hyde

John L. Lewis signed a new contract, Little Peter Rabbit went on a bear hunt, and Winter Carnival came to an end—all last Sunday. The coal-shy New York Central found enough diesels to remove the last vestiges of "feminine pulchritude" from the Hill, and Hamilton settled back into its claustral state.

Saturday night's formal dance reigned over by Miss Anne Parker, put the last scheduled touches on the gala festival. ELS dominated the show, playing host to the Queen, constructing the winning snow-sculpture, and supplying Carnival Chairman Bill Wilson.

16-year old Anne Parker, youngest Queen in Hamilton history, is a honey-blond from Clayton, N. Y., and was the date of ELS Freshman Phil Davis.

The winning sculpture was a colorful fifteen-foot statue of Al Jolson in his typical, down-on-one-knee singing pose. Designed by Dave Hayter and Bob Messinger, it was colored red and black. Second place went to Psi U's horse driving a cadillac, while Theta Delt copped third with their sculpture of a man drinking from a bathtub of gin. Judges for the sculptures were Professor Emeritus A. P. Saunders, Professor Paul Parker, and Instructor Frank A. Piano.

The weekend was officially set in motion Friday night, with a dance exhibition in Commons Hall by a group of Arthur Murray dancers from Syracuse. Included in their repertoire of old fashioned dances were the Charleston, the Bunny-hug, the Two-step, the Cakewalk and the Turkey-trot. The group also did some modern dances. Following the show there was group participation, from which Dave and Joan Webster emerged with the trophy for "greatest improvement during the evening."

BULLETIN

President McEwen announced this noon that the Public Service Commission has approved regular bus service to College Hill. The bus schedule will begin no later than March 20th and can be suspended during college recesses.

"The Cabinet of Calligari" will be shown by the Student Christian Association, tonight in the Chemistry Auditorium. Admission by season ticket.

N.Y. State Teams Try For Honors

By Jim Scott

The Colgate University Swimming team, paced by backstroke star Ralph Coxhead, tops the list of college and high school mermen who will compete for the Adirondack AAU Championships in the Alumni Gymnasium Pool tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Under the direction of Meet Chairman Peter Dugan, diving trials and preliminary heats will begin at 1:30 P.M. Finals in all events will start at 7:30. Both Hamilton students and outsiders must pay thirty cents admission at both the afternoon and evening events.

Colgate Defends Title

The Red Raiders will defend their Senior Division Championship against squads from Union, RPI, and Hamilton and the Colgate Freshmen. Manlius Academy, Sherrill High School and St. Francis de Sales Academy will vie for the Junior Division crown.

Senior events include: 300 yds. medley relay, 220 yds. freestyle, 50 yds. freestyle, one meter diving, 100 yds. freestyle, 150 yds. backstroke, 200 yds. breaststroke, 440 yds. freestyle, and 40 yds. freestyle relay. Fifty yards events in the backstroke, breaststroke, and freestyle comprise the Junior Division events.

A plaque will be awarded to the Senior Division team scoring the most points. First, second, and third place Adirondack A. A. U. medals will be awarded in both divisions in individual events while only first place medals will go to relay event victors.

Coxhead Favored

The main attraction of the meet will be the 150 yard backstroke event. Present titleholder Ralph Coxhead is favored to smash his own Adirondack AAU record of 1:39 and he could possibly better the world intercollegiate record of 1:31.8.

Last year's runner-up, Redlich, RPI, will battle against Duffy of

Charlatans Postpone Production One Week

Due to conflict with hour exams this week, the Charlatans production of four one-act plays has been postponed until Thursday and Friday evenings, March 16 and 17.

This action was taken at a meeting of the Executive Board last Monday night, when it was learned that certain members of the casts as well as a large number of the student body would not be able to attend the plays.

At the time that the dates were originally set, it was not know that exams would conflict with rehearsals to such an extent, Doug Johnson of the Charlatans explained.

• Increased Scholarship Aid

President Robert W. McEwen announced in Assembly last Wednesday the increase and extension of scholarships for 1950-51. He stated that part of the extra money would be given to students who, besides maintaining a good scholarship record, would contribute definately to the College's extra-curricular activities.

Such a policy should be beneficial to Hamilton. Naturally, the stress at college should be academic, but Hamilton should also be proud that, in the past, she has striven to develop a "well-rounded" and conscientious citizen. The policy for the new scholarship funds will strengthen this aim. President McEwen also was firm in pointing out that this money would not be used primarily to encourage athletes to come to the Hill. It is true, however, that some of the money will be used for this purpose. This does not mean subsidization of the athletic program inasmuch as intercollegiate sports are merely another part of the College's extra-curricular program.

The smallness in number of Hamilton students makes it imperative that a large percentage of the students participate in activities apart from their studies. The added scholarships promise to build this type of citizenship; a very good aim for Hamilton to pursue.

• AAU Swimming Meet

The Adirondack AAU swimming meet will be held at Hamilton tomorrow afternoon and evening. This will be the highlight of the 1949-50 swimming season on the Hill. Spectators will see some of New York State's finest swimmers in action attempting to smash some of the present records. The students are urged to attend.

The Spectator would also like to take this opportunity to extend the warmest greetings to the members of the visiting swimming teams and any rooters who have journeyed here to see the meet.

FallaciousFive Reap Laurels At Hamilton

By Arnold Klein

More spontaneous good joy has come forth at the hands of the Fallacious Five than any other group on the Hill, officially organized or not. The "Five" have been important for almost three years in providing Dixieland to houseparties, special dances and variety shows.

The group started in the basement of Root Hall in the fall of '47. There Ed Kelly, Dick Ball, and Ham Stuart played trumpets. Jim Pratt was in charge of a bass drum and John Parker played piano. Jim Collier, trombone and John Sell, clarinet, are the only two extant of this original group.

Carnegie lounge, South lounge and again the Root Hall basement (where there were two pianos) were the practice halls in the fall of '48. Fell, Collier and Parker (who switched to cornet) were joined by Pete Zeeveld, piano. Mike Beldock, who had been observing the group with envious but rhythmic interest, obtained a set of drums and was admitted to the circle.

In the laissez faire musicales held in those days—mostly underneath the Dean's office (the pianos were unmysteriously removed early this year and practice is now situated in Silliman Hall)—roving instrumentalists joined in as they might, among them Bob Adams, Tom Heinrich, Joe von Hake, Robert Larsen, etc. Nearly the only musical law obeyed was the playing in a key—the key of B flat, their only key.

The Glamorous Period commenced in the spring of '49. Three players were added to the band: Bill Robbins, tenor sax, Wally Alprin, guitar, and an anonymous trumpet player. The band now featured arrangements—in three keys, C, F, and B flat—and a readiness to play at any time of day or night. On the Sunday of Spring Houseparty,

Pucksters Drop Last Game; Record Shows Improvement

By Jim Nickel

With the final gong of the McMaster game Saturday the hockey sason drew to a close. It is true the end was not good, and the club did drop six in a row, but the fact remains Hamilton produced a team that won five and lost eight, after turning out a sextet last year that took two and dropped seven. The improvement came both in percentage and in the calibre of of the victories. The Blue downed Middlebury twice, Clarkson, R. P. I., and the Alumni. In '49 the club took the Alumni and a ragged Paul Smith.

52 Goals

In nine games in 1949 Hamilton scored 30 goals and had 48 scored against for average of 3.3 and 4.8. In 1950, against better opposition, and in four more games, the Blue scored 52 goals, to 66 against, for per game average of 4.0 and 5.0.

Co-Captain Carl Knapp once again ran away with scoring honors with 13 goals and 6 assists. Second was Charlie Beeching with 12 goals and 3 assists. Captain-elect-for-1951, Jim Scala racked up 7 goals and 7 assists. The rest in order with goals and assists in parenthesis, were: Jack Sanborn. (4-5); Dave Nadal, (5-3); Tim Colt, (5-0); Sam Reeder, (3-2); Paul Mosier, (0-3); Byrne Kinney, (1-1); Hol Bugbee and Ray Murray, (1-0).

McMaster Wins

McMaster University, after bowing to Clinton 7-6 the night before, swept Hamilton 8-3 Saturday afternoon.

Charlie Beeching scored Hamilton's first goal at 8:57 of the second period, after McMaster had taken a 3-0 lead. The victors weighed in with four more tallies before Carl Knapp, playing his last game along with Dave Nadal, Jerry Steiner, Sam Reeder and Ray Murray, scored on a pretty solo from the left side at 11:10 of the third period. At 16:13 Charlie Beeching, all alone at the blue line, took a long pass from Mosier, skated in alone, and sunk a shot through the goalie for the final Hamilton tally. At 19:40 Fraser added the eighth McMaster score.

Blue Cagers Lose To Trinity Before Houseparty Crowd

The Hamilton College basketball team concluded a disasterous season last Friday with their highest scoring performance of the year, but they disappointed the large houseparty crowd by losing to Trinity 84-72.

The Blue opened up quickly with Mullett and Robinson doing most of the scoring and at 10 minutes sported a 22-16 lead. This margin disappeared rapidly as the visitors knotted the score at 26-all four minutes later.

Larry Hutnick's 15 first-half points sparked the Hartford, Conn. five to a 45-33 lead at halftime, a 12-point margin that held up to the end.

Trinity's margin was as wide as 71-51 midway through the second half, but the Continentals fought back with Clint Emery hitting for 10 points in less than 10 minutes, but to no avail.

Ted Mullett connected for 21 points to lead the scorers for the game. Captain Bill Tank, who along with Tom Gregory played his last game, ended four years of varsity ball with a 17-point performance, which gave him a 4-year total of 807 markers, believed to be a college high, for a 14.2 average.

The Continentals ended the season with but two wins in fifteen starts.

for example, they played on the lawn beside the Alpha Delt house almost continuously from 2:30 P. M. to 9:30 P. M. (see cut above), and their local fame was established. As their skill became more apparent they were permitted, sometimes even invited, to play at various places, including Minor's bar in Utica.

By this year, however, the well-integrated Five, (who are now a stable six, and alternately known as the Blueblowers), constitute a sine qua non of Hamilton. They played at the dance at Psi U for North Village couples, and during last week's Carnival, for Theta Delt and for Alpha Chi.

They were their most clamorous success two weeks ago at Colgate's Winter Carnival, where they entertained at DKE.

Unfortunately, all in the band but one are graduating seniors. Their music may soon vanish forever, unless a few re-assemble in Paris, whither there is a planned migration.
